

Live timetables, messages & resource bookings delivered directly to staff & student devices

“I get reminders and any changes to do with my classes on my phone, ahead of time.”

-AUT student feedback

As student numbers grow, the cost of administration and class scheduling also increases. And despite student calendars being available online, they're not replacing the old paper-based ones. Why?

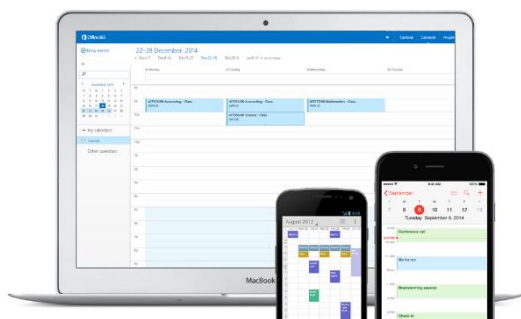

Students need this information with them, in their pockets. Our solution delivers their latest timetable directly into their phone calendar, complete with maps and reminders. No more confusion with room changes and no more overloading your admin team.

Key Features:

- Empower students and staff with timetables embedded directly into their mobile phone, PC and tablet calendars
- Push messages and notifications directly to student and staff phones in real-time
- Notify students of room changes before they arrive
- Include map links and other useful information
- Enable students to manage resource bookings digitally on any device
- Simple to setup, no apps to install and compatible with all major phone platforms including Apple iOS, Google Android and Windows

How does it work?

Most education providers use a specialist software product to create their staff and student timetables.

The problem is that this data is stored in a proprietary format, designed by the software provider. It isn't designed to be used by phones, tablets, or other third-party products.

Our solution provides an automated system for extracting this data and loading it onto a platform that phones and computers are designed to read natively. No additional apps are required. All the students need to do is add a free account into their phone's native calendar and email settings.

Best of all, this solution is 100% automated and compatible with all major phone platforms (Apple iOS, Google Android, Windows etc).

Finally your staff and students can access rich timetable data, campus maps, room-change notifications, reminders and resource bookings all in their pockets... any time, anywhere.
